Bureau Campaign.

Farmer Bureau campaign that is being conducted by the Texas Farm Federation in nearly every county of the state is soon to begin in this county. The State Federation has a crew of farmers to go to other farmers in the county for the purpose of acquainting them with the plans and purposes of this fast growing organization. Plans will be held in central places in the county and the following day the Bureau solicitors together with the farmers will visit every farm in the community. At the time of the two weeks campaign the Bureau will be organized into a county board of directors to direct the activities of the Bureau in the county.

National membership of the organization is approaching the two million mark. The Texas organization has approximately sixty members in about seventy counties and the organization is growing at the rate of six to eight thousand a month. It is hoped by the fall of 1921 that the membership will be increased from a hundred to a hundred thousand in this big organization in Texas.

Main plan of the organization is to market the farm products in a business like way. The plan is patterned after the successful organized association of California Fruit Growers where thousands of dollars have been saved to the farmers of this important state. It is along the pooling plan whereby the products are sold in a business like way, all the proceeds of a sale to be turned back into the growers hands. The state, Oklahoma, has received a campaign for pooling and has succeeded in enlisting over a hundred thousand bales. The plan is to create a central selling agency for all the cotton of the South and thus eliminate any competition in the selling line. And when this is done to be able to ask a price for the farmer's products that will be the cost of production plus a reasonable profit. Every farmer in the county is urged to attend these meetings as shown by the schedule in this issue.

Prisoners Attempt to Escape.

Broomsticks are usually regarded as strictly a woman's weapon and has always been held in a degree of contempt by men. But emergencies arise where even men are forced to use this plebian weapon, and that it is effective in producing a sore neck and shoulders when wielded by vigorous hands can be testified to by Chas. Schuehle. In his capacity as jailer it became necessary for Charley to enter the jail last Saturday afternoon. He has always been popular with the inmates of the county bastille who, without previous information, had planned a warm reception for him. He had no sooner entered the jail than Oberg, one of the ex-soldier prisoners held in the jail, landed on the back of his neck with a broomstick. Charley resented this familiarity on the part of a comparative stranger and a rough-and-tumble fight followed. Charley prides himself on being somewhat of a man and soon had his antagonist hors de combat. It developed afterwards that Oberg expected to be re-inforced in his attack on Schuehle, but the trusty who was to liberate the other prisoners from the cells failed in his part of the planned attack, and soon Schuehle had his attacker subdued. It developed that it was planned by the prisoners to bind and gag Schuehle, and all the paraphernalia for this purpose had been collected. They had even prepared a letter to the jailors thanking them for the many kindnesses shown them and regretting the hardness they had to resort to effect their liberty—another evidence that the "best laid plans o' mice an' men gang aft a-glee." By a liberal use of arnica Charley is about his normal self again.

Mrs. Frank Scott Cockrell Entertains.

Mrs. F. S. Cockrell entertained eight tables Tuesday afternoon, honoring Miss Aggie Reily of Sabinal and her house guest, Miss Blanche Barbee, of San Antonio. The heart scheme was carried out in the decorations of red roses, heart shaped tallies and red-ribboned favors. Hearts and arrows decorated the salad course served at six o'clock.

When the scores were counted, Miss Reily and Miss Barbee were the recipients of dainty lingerie, and Miss Nettie Mae Newton the first prize, a set of dominoes. Miss Bess Tyler of Sabinal and Miss Jewel Black received huge red balloons as consolations. Miss Edna Tyler won a decorative heart apron.

A cobweb hunt afforded much amusement, and such prizes as bars of soap, lemons, bottles of coca cola and hair pins rewarded the search of many. The invited guests included Misses Gertrude Reily, Irene Hudspeth, Bess Brucks, Bess Roberts, Mabel Hollaway, Willie D. Fly, Nettie Mae Newton, Ruth Crawford, Jewel Black, Lucille DeMontel, Lucille Woolls, Ethel Hutzler, Della Peters, Florence Lacy, Panchita Gilliam, Hazel Brown, Elsa Bradley, Hilda Muennink, Emma Muennink, Maggie Cameron, Corine Ney, the out-of-town guests, Misses Bess and Edna Tyler and Mrs. McDonald, of Sabinal, Mrs. Herman, of Pennsylvania, and Mrs. Elmer Rothe, Mrs. Elmer Leinweber and the honorees and hostess completed the personnel.

Mrs. Elmer Rothe and Miss Blanche Barbee were the honorees at Mrs. Cockrell's tea on Wednesday afternoon from three to seven. Assisting Mrs. Rothe in serving the tea, was her sister, Mrs. Maurice Makoe, of Sabinal, and Miss Barbee received with Mrs. Cockrell. Mrs. Horace Bradley and Misses Corine Ney, Hilda Muennink and Gertrude Reily sang during the afternoon. Mesdames T. Barnes, O. H. Miller, Earl Starnes, Ralph Russell, Arthur Allen, John Heyen and Horace Bradley assisted in receiving and serving the callers.

Miss Barbee was a dinner guest of Judge and Mrs. D. H. Fly while here and was a recipient of a number of social affairs.

Show Coming Back.

The public in general will be pleased to hear that the Jennings Bros.' Tent Theatre Co., are going to make a return trip to Comfort Wednesday and Thursday, March 30 and 31.

This show is one of the best and cleanest that Comfort has ever had, and the opportunity to see it was decidedly taken advantage of last week, when their tent was crowded to its capacity at each performance.—Comfort News.

To the prompt response and heroic treatment of one of our physicians four Mexican children undoubtedly owe their lives. The Southern Pacific chemical crew passed through here Tuesday and gave the weeds on the right-of-way a thorough spraying with a poisonous solution. The four children, in playing along the right-of-way, found a handful of orange peeling that had evidently been thrown from a passing train. These peelings had been thoroughly saturated by the poisoned spray. The children ate the peelings and soon were very much in need of a physician. The vigorous use of a stomach pump and the liberal application of antidotes for arsenic poisoning pulled the children through and they are again enjoying their normal health.

FOR SALE—One J. I. Case Threshing machine outfit, in good condition, $1,500.00. E. A. Heinen, Hondo, Tex. Phone 958, F-5. 38 4t.

(From The Juajilla Leaf)
WHAT IS YOUR AIM?

The student who graduates without any definite goal or purpose in the future is like the elephant who "was travelin' right smart, but didn't know whar he wuz gwine." To find such students is no difficult matter; they are everywhere, in every school.

A successful life requires concentration along some line, and there can be no concentration when there is no aim on which to apply it. Purpose is absolutely necessary to achievement. A student without a purpose cannot specialize or concentrate on some line of work. If he cannot specialize, he becomes a drifter, and if he is a drifter, he is a failure. It is of paramount importance that a high school graduate should have a plan for his future mapped out. He should have decided on his life work in order that he may attend the right school and elect the necessary course of study. If he has made no such decision, he will be greatly handicapped.

If you haven't a goal, get one. Don't be like a ship without a rudder, tossing here and there, at the whim of wind and waves; such a position is both unenviable and dangerous. If you haven't already realized it, you will find out sooner or later that your parents cannot support you indefinitely. It is not right that they should. They are keeping you in school with the anticipation that you will prepare yourself to take their places. Show them that you appreciate their efforts, and show the world that you respect yourself by getting down to work with a fixed purpose before you. You can't succeed without inspiration any more than an engine can run without fuel. Have your ideal or aim constantly before you, and strive steadily to reach it.

JUST A FEW MORE DAYS.

Yes, it is the truth! Just a little more than six weeks until school is out. Five-sixths of this school year has passed, and now only the shortest one-sixth remains—for the last few weeks of school always seem the shortest.

To some of us the close of school means a long vacation, after which we will start back in a grade higher; to some it means a rest, followed by another year in the same grade; while to a few it means the end of our school days in dear old H. H. S. Some of these few will attend various colleges in the state next term, and others will enter industry to make their fortunes.

But regardless of what the end of this six weeks and the close of school may mean to us, we all look forward to it with a smile; and now, to broaden out this smile, and really make it worth while, let's finish with a record to be proud of—the distinction of making this the most successful year in the history of our school.

Don't be a pessimist! Don't say it can't be done! If each individual will put forth every effort on his part from now until the last minute of school—we won't say what will happen. Anyway in about 1935 (if that is a successful school year) the students will say proudly: "Gee! but this has been a great school year, it was almost on a parallel with that of '21."

Is This Your Experience?

Many Hondo People Are Afflicted With Annoying Kidney Ills.

Are you bothered with too frequent action of the kidneys? Are the secretions highly colored—do they contain sediment—burn and scald in voiding? These are all signs of kidney sickness and should not be neglected. Hondo people recommend Doan's Kidney Pills. If your back aches and your kidneys are weak you will find no better recommended remedy. Ask your neighbor! Joseph Mechler, Hondo, says: "I can highly recommend Doan's Kidney Pills for I know they are good. I was taken with a severe backache and had sort of a dull pain in my kidneys day and night. When I would stoop over I could hardly raise up again. My kidneys didn't act right and I had to get up at nights on this account. A friend told me about Doan's kidney Pills so I used them and was helped from the first. Two boxes of Doan's made my back as strong as iron and made my kidneys act like clock work."

Price 60c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Mechler had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfgs., Buffalo, N. Y.

GAME GREAT SUCCESS.

One of the most fascinating Basketball games of this season took place at College Square on March 24.

There were all forms and shapes of style on the court, everything from an old maid to a spring chicken. There were bustles, hoop-skirts, hobnails, and flat hats.

One of the largest crowds ever gathered on College Square to witness a basketball game was present.

The two teams, Kress and Woolworth, were represented by Mrs. Cockrell, as a bride; and Norma Rothe, as an old maid. These two had many hard discussions while refereeing the game, on fouls; such as, chewing gum and stepping on each other's trains.

The final score was 8 to 4 in favor of Kress. Captain Schuehle won first prize as a "country girl come to town," and she was presented with a box of Post Toasties. Norma Rothe won second prize, as an old maid, and received a striped stick of candy.

BAYLOR BEAR ONLY SIX YEARS OLD

To '21ers it seems that the Baylor Bear must surely be as old as old Baylor. But in reality the big bear is only six years old.

In 1915 there was a meeting called in the athletic council room of the candidates for the Baylor mascot. There was a big contest over such an important matter. Everything from antelopes down to hookworms were submitted. The heated judging finally rested between the Buffalo and the Bear. The Bear won over by coolly speaking for himself, "I'd stampeede the Longhorns, scratch out the Farmers' eyes, bring my paw in the honey pot and stick out the whole blamed comb of victory."

The Bear as a mascot was submitted by Miss Doyle Thraikill of Hondo, Texas.—Baylor Lariat.

SECO 14—LACOSTE O.

In a slow game of basketball, played at the County Meet, Seco Rural High won the championship over Lacoste by the decisive score of 14-0.

The teams showed good work for such a small amount of material to select from. Seco clearly out-played her opponent on every part of the field, her guards, centers and forwards doing exceptionally good work.

This is the first year Rural Basketball was entered on the program at the County Meet, and it was done on the recommendation of the county teachers.

The winning team was coached by Miss Octavia Davis, an H. H. S. basketball player. Mrs. F. S. Cockrell refereed the game.

Fletcherized Farm Facts

BY FLETCHER DAVIS

"Sorghum seed should be tested for germinating power before planting time, and if well-selected and well-stored, will show a germinating power of 99 to 100 per cent. A simple method of testing the seed is as follows: Secure two dinner plates, a little clean sand and two sheets of blotting paper or cheese cloth large enough to cover one of the plates. Place the sand in one of the plates, level it off and then saturate it until the water nearly stands on the surface; then place the blotting paper or cheese cloth, and spread on it the seed—ten, fifty or a hundred of each head. The larger the number the more accurate the test. Over the seeds spread another sheet of blotting paper or cheese cloth and cover all with the other plate. Allow this tester to stand in a room ranging in temperature from 50 to 70 degrees for four or five days. The percentage of germination is then taken and only the seeds of such heads showing a high power of germination are used for planting. If the entire seed supply should show a weak germination and there is no other supply of seed to be had, it is suggested that the crop be planted rather thick in the row to insure a good stand."

The grain sorghums should be planted from ten days to two weeks later than the date generally fixed for planting corn in the locality. The quantity of seed to plant will depend upon whether the crop is intended principally for grain or a combination grain and forage crop. With the first purpose in view, the stand should not be so thick as it may be in the second. One plant to eight or nine inches of row space has given the best results. A good stand is obtained, conditions being favorable and seed good, if a corn planter, equipped with plates, drops three or four grains in a hill at intervals of eight or ten inches in a row. It is probable that better results may be obtained by dropping the seeds one at a time at intervals of from three to five inches. Thin planting is safer, because a thin stand will produce a splendid crop in a wet season, a good yield in a season of average rainfall and a fair one in a dry season. For seed production or where heavy heads for feeding purposes are desired, from three to six pounds of seed are required per acre, but for forage from ten to twelve pounds are necessary. The grain sorghums are rarely planted broadcast, but when they are they should be put in with a wheat drill and from one and one-half to two bushels of seed sowed to the acre. There should be a good, well-prepared, firm seed bed and the seeds should be covered from one to two and one-half inches deep.

"If you know how to cultivate corn," to quote further from the Department of Agriculture's Bulletin, "you know how to cultivate the grain sorghums, for there is no substantial difference between the processes. Cultivation should start early in the season and be frequent enough to destroy the weed growth and provide a surface mulch to prevent the loss of moisture by excessive evaporation. The spike-tooth harrow, run with or across the rows, is satisfactory for the first two cultivations of surface-planted sorghum. The first harrowing should be done when the plants make their appearance above the ground and the second just before the plants are large enough for the row cultivator. If the ground gets foul with young weeds while the plants are small a knife-slide should be used. This will kill all the weeds except in the drill. Of course this must be done before the plants have much root system, otherwise it would injure the plants. Knives will not work well in real stiff soils, but will often do good work where not expected. The listed crop requires a lister cultivator. At first working the discs are adjusted to turn the soil away from the plants, and then they are reversed to throw the soil towards the plants. The result of this process is to gradually bury the first formed roots and base of the plants and save the plants against the heavy winds; and it fixes the root system deeper in the ground."

In any scheme of diversification of crops this year, the grain sorghums should be given a prominent place. They not only assure food for the family and feed for the live stock but the threshed grain is becoming a standard commercial commodity. Owing to their for planting. If the entire seed supply should show a weak germination early maturity the southern half of the state can put the new-crop grain on the market before the grain crops are matured in the grain belt, and in this way reap the benefit of the early demand. Consider the adaptability of the grain sorghums to your individual situation. If all will do this the acreage will be materially increased this year.

To be able to throw the searchlight of a superb personality before us, wherever we go through life, and to leave a trail of sunshine and blessing behind us; to be loved because we scatter flowers of good cheer wherever we move, is an infinitely greater and nobler achievement than to pile up millions of cold, unsympathetic dollars.

—Dr. Orison Sweet Marden.

NOWADAYS almost every man wants to lean on something, and the shoulders of the State and nation seem to him to be built especially for his leaning purposes. Cut it out and lean on your own underpinning, or don't lean at all. In the past few years the State and the nation have butted into almost every branch of private business, until half of us are laboring under censorship and autocratic rule that should be obnoxious to every right-thinking American. What is the result? Look around you and take note of it. Instead of our taxes being thousands, as they used to be under private initiative, they are not only millions, but billions, and we have every dollar of the billions to pay out of our individual pockets. Paternal government is a mistake, and also the wildest extravagance we ever indulged in. We used to save money. Now we burn it up.—Exchange.

THERE is something mighty rotten in Washington, or else all signs fail. In 1916, Woodrow Wilson was re-elected President on the campaign slogan of "he kept us out of war". But almost before the ballots were counted, and without any one seeming to know just why we should be, we were plunged into a war which, to use the language of war-time official propaganda, we "had to be made mad first" to fight. Then, the bloody holocaust over, while the late belligerents were making peace among themselves and trying to rehabilitate trade and their afflicted countries, this country stood aloof, sacrificing all that might have been gained by concluding an early peace, while an ambition-crazed man in the Whitehouse stood out for a visionary dream that he thought would make him a world figure. In a "solemn referendum" the American people all but made it unanimous in rejecting the proposals that were blocking peace, and swept into power a new regime that promised an early peace without entangling alliances. Now, almost before the new officials have warmed the cushions of their swivel chairs, we are told that the United States must proceed with caution and have the approval of her late allies in anything she does looking to the conclusion of peace—alikes, mind you, that long since concluded a peace themselves without consulting this country. In the meantime, our soldier boys are still camped on the Rhine, ready to be caught in the first whirlwind of a fresh outbreak of war in that troubled country, while England grabs the world trade that rightfully belongs to this country and American farm products rot in the field for want of a market outlet. Yes, there is something fearfully rotten "up the creek" at Washington; wonder if British gold is polluting the stream?

It is well to reflect that the cotton crop of the South, after it is ginned and packed into bales, is a commercial commodity, the bulk of which must be exported to foreign countries to find a market. It is in these foreign countries, where the cotton is spun and woven into cloth, that the price of raw cotton is largely made. This price is governed mainly by the ability of those countries to buy. If they are able to finance large deals, buy large quantities of raw material, make great numbers of busy spindles turn, and ship their finished fabrics into all the busy marts of trade throughout the world, then they can and will bid good prices for their supplies of raw material. But how is it today? In the countries that have heretofore furnished us with our principal market for cotton, we find just the reverse of these conditions. The nations are bankrupt, their money has sunk so low in exchange value as to be all but worthless in some instances, and they are without credit with which to buy. Their man-power has been depleted by a suicidal war, their factories have been largely lost through neglect and lack of repairs, and they are unable, could they get the material, to produce to the maximum of their pre-war production. And, could they get the raw material and produce at their former capacity, the world markets are not to be had. The world is poverty stricken and must wear fewer clothes for some time to come. This beggared condition of humanity is the fruits of the wastes of war, and so severe is this condition that the world will not soon recover. These are the conditions which the cotton farmer faces today, and must continue to face, until the world has had time to rehabilitate itself. What is the obvious thing to do? Why, manifestly, when one has a beggar for his patron, he must, if he would produce without a loss, produce at beggar's wages. The man who can not produce cotton almost at no cost at all this year, it would seem, might well devote his energies to most any other kind of honest endeavor. With cotton selling now—when sold at all—below the cost of production and the world's buying power showing but little, if any, improvement, prudence would seem to dictate that crops yielding those things most needed for consumption on the farm should be given first consideration, and the cotton be made only a fill-in crop to be tended after all else has been looked after.

"Black-Draught is, in my opinion, the best liver medicine on the market," states Mrs. R. H. Whiteside, of Keota, Okla. I was constipated and knew it was indigestion and inactive liver. I began the use of Black-Draught, night and morning, and it sure is splendid and certainly gives relief."

Thedford's BLACK-DRAUGHT

For over seventy years this purely vegetable preparation has been found beneficial by thousands of persons suffering from effects of a torpid, or slow-acting liver. Indigestion, biliousness, colic, coated tongue, dizziness, constipation, bitter taste, sleeplessness, lack of energy, pain in back, puffiness under the eyes—any or all of these symptoms often indicate that there is something the matter with your liver. You can't be too careful about the medicine you take. Be sure that the name, "Thedford's Black-Draught," is on the package. At all druggists.

OKLAHOMA MAN NOW ENDORSES IT.

Welch, Aged 68, Tells How Wonderfully Tanlac Built Him Up.

"The way Tanlac fixed me up two years ago is something I will always remember," said J. T. Welch, well-known retired business man of Fort Gibson, Okla. Mr. Welch has been a resident of Fort Gibson for twenty years, was town marshal at one time and is one of the most prominent citizens of the city.

"I was not what one would call exactly sick, but am getting along in years and felt my usual good health and strength slipping away. My appetite failed and even what little I did eat seemed to do me no good. I suffered from a sluggish liver and constipation, became very weak and nervous; in fact, was so weak I couldn't walk a few steps, especially upstairs, without giving out completely. My condition seemed to get worse and I became greatly disturbed about my poor state of health.

"In looking around to find something to set me right I got hold of Tanlac and it struck the spot exactly. My appetite picked up almost from the start, and in a little while my strength and energy came back to me and I was feeling fine. Since then I've been in good shape, and now I can run up the stairway if necessary and it doesn't tire me, either. I don't at all mind walking all day, for I feel good and can enjoy it. I'm in good condition in every way and am glad to say a good word for Tanlac."

Tanlac is sold in Hondo by W. H. Windrow; in Castroville by Joseph Courand & Co.; and in Dunlay by Louis A. Baby; and by all leading druggists.

Advocates More Live Stock.

Mr. J. C. Hestand, Field Agent of the State Department of Agriculture, spoke before a called meeting of the Hondo Chamber of Commerce in the district court room Monday afternoon. Mr. Hestand is a practical stock-farmer and has made a modest fortune breeding Duroc-Jersey hogs. He made a plain, practical talk that met with the hearty endorsement of his hearers. He said that he did not advise any one to go into the hog business or the chicken business, but he did advise every farmer to diversify with live stock and poultry. He quoted some surprising figures showing the neglect of animal husbandry on the farms of Texas. He then showed in an equally forceful way the possibility of wealth production from live stock. He urged that the boys and girls should be encouraged to raise poultry, hogs and cattle, and showed how they can build up a bank account while at the same time acquiring a practical education. "More to eat, more to wear and a better education for every body" is his text, he said.

Mr. Hestand spoke to the D'Hanis school Tuesday afternoon, and left for Austin on the afternoon train. He did not get away, however, without first promising to return to the county some time in the future for a longer stay.

Ernest W. Brucks on Honor Roll.

Austin, Texas, April—Over three hundred students in the College of Arts of the University of Texas attained during the winter term recently ended the high scholastic average entitling them to a place on the honor roll issued by Dean H. Y. Benedict. In constructing this honor list account is taken of the number of courses passed, as well as of the grades made. Score is determined by giving twelve points for an A, nine for a B, six for a C, and three for a D. To be eligible for the honor roll a student is required to have a score of at least 48, except in the case of freshmen, where the minimum is 45. Thus a student taking five courses, which is the average number, would be eligible upon making two A's and three B's, while a student taking only four courses would be required to make all A's, etc. About sixty students, comprising the highest two per cent, made scores of sixty or over.

On this honor roll Ernest W. Brucks of Hondo is given high rank as standing in the first one per cent. Only thirty-one students in the entire College of Arts attained this honor.

CASE, GRAIN--SAVING THRESHER--STEEL BUILT

Case Threshing Machines

STEEL CONSTRUCTION means rigidity and long life. It prevents total destruction by fire. It guards against distorted frames and disalignment of shafts and bearings from the weight and pull of main drive belts. Rotting and warping of frame, panels and other parts are avoided and the galvanizing prevents rusting of Case threshers. Compared to wooden machines these are distinct advantages that any practical thresher will quickly recognize.
